WHAT WE'VE BEEN UP TO

Since our last update we have done a Family VBS in Illinois, a children's VBS with an adult class in Indiana, a spur of the moment Family VBS in Michigan, and a Wednesday through Sunday churchwide camp in two locations, also in Michigan. The first Family VBS was at a church on the south side of Chicago. These folks are seriously competitive! The Red and Blue Knights competed for points in attendance, visitors, Bibles brought, singing, a nightly Bible quiz, and most offering. They raised over $1,500 to send young people in Moldova to Bible Camp!

Our next meeting was in a church in Indiana that was holding a four day children's VBS. They train their teens for summer ministry, and travel to other churches to conduct children's VBS. This was the first time they had ever led the VBS in their own church. We actually had nothing to do with the children's part of the VBS. We had about an hour and a half each night to minister to an adult class. Each night we presented a chalk drawing, special music, and a sermon to the over ninety adults attending.

While we were setting up for revival meetings at the next church in Michigan, the pastor's wife commented that they wished they could do something that would fill their need for VBS as well. We instantly stopped setting up for the revival meeting and suggested one of our signature Family VBSs. The pastor was delighted with the idea, so on the spur of the moment we shifted from revival to Family VBS preparations. The folks really enjoyed the week. Many commented that they were blessed by the preaching and worked hard to invite the lost out to the VBS. There were some great decisions made regarding salvation and assurance as well as some good Christian decisions.

For our final summer meeting we ministered for a church camp held by a church in Ann Arbor, Michigan. We began with the Wednesday night service at the church. On Thursday we traveled three hours to Camp CoBeAc where we did four more sessions through Saturday morning. We finished the camp with the Sunday services back at the church. These kind folks let us know that they appreciated the ministry that God gave us and that the Lord was working in their hearts through the preaching. The last message at camp focused on soulwinning and we asked the people to see how many lost folks they could get to the Sunday services. They did an amazing job. Praise the Lord, there were several folks who made professions of faith on Sunday.

Thank you all for your prayer and financial support that allows us to strengthen local churches and help them win the lost to Christ.
